Teams

Build and strengthen effective and high performing teams using the latest diagnostic and development techniques.

Teams that work

TPS start our "Team" projects with a simple question. "What do you want the team to do?"

A team is more than a collection of people who get on with each other. It has a purpose and needs the right people, working in the right way in order for the team to be effective.

When should you use our team services?

The TPS range of team building and development processes add value by:

- Putting new teams together for short or long-term purposes;
- Helping an established team to work more efficiently and effectively;
- Allowing a team to refocus and reactivate;
- Creating high performance executive teams.

TPS take a scientific approach to working with teams:

- Individual and Team diagnostics.
- Team development workshops.

How TPS can develop your organisation

TPS provide support to a range of clients across all industry sectors. Our consultants provide a comprehensive range of individual and organisational assessment and development solutions. We are UK based but we work across the world wherever our clients have people requirements which need addressing.

While we have a full portfolio of high quality programmes available for immediate use, our philosophy is always to match our solutions to the needs of our clients. Our client engagement process is second to none and each client project is carefully managed by the most suitable consultant with the right qualifications and experience. Our dedicated client liaison partner ensures that satisfaction is guaranteed every step of the way.

Note: All TPS work is provided on a fee-for-service basis. Each project is subject to a separate quotation and all consultancy, material and associated fees are made clear at the start of every project. Where venues or equipment is used, TPS will normally expect clients to provide such unless explicitly agreed beforehand.
